Dear Alice and Maurice,

A few months ago I received your most wonderful and lovely letter.
I must apologise that I am rather lazy in writing letters as also replying to those received.

It appears that deep sea fishing operation is a good business. The difficulty in launching is the nonavailability of marine diesel engines.
I think I can a few boats within a fortnight and commence trawling.
I hope that your watch is giving good service.

Alice how is your charity work progressing. Will it be possible for you to send arrange to send me some free magazines for our reading room. Is Maurice still happy with his new real estate work.

How is the smart little boy Philip. Hope your little engineer Tommy is still inventing small toys. Let him study hard to become a good engineer.
I wish you both and the kids a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

With love,
Belarence
